UNIDO ITPO Tokyo: (2) Technology Transfer

- Environmental Technology Database: Japanese environment/energy technologies registered, open to the public via UNIDO ITPO Tokyo's website. Networking and business opportunities between Africa and Japan are provided (54 technologies from 47 companies, as of Jan 2018)

Advantages for African & Japanese stakeholders

- ✓ Easy to identify Japanese technologies to address local challenges
- ✓ Provide platform for technology seekers and technology providers
- ✓ Support technology promotion activities (creation of PR materials)

UNIDO ITPO Tokyo: (3) Seminars & Events

- Organization and support of business seminars, workshops and forums in Japan to present the latest investment climate and technology needs of developing and emerging countries, often in collaboration with JETRO and JICA

Advantages for Japanese investors

- ✓ Collect the latest info on local business climate and technology needs
- ✓ Establish human networks with key persons of the countries
- ✓ Learn from experiences of other Japanese companies that have already invested

UNIDO ITPO Tokyo: (4) Capacity Building

- Organization of capacity building activities such as lectures, visits of factories and exhibitions, and fact-finding meetings for various delegations from developing countries as well as embassy officials in Japan

Advantages for African & Japanese stakeholders

- ✓ Establish human networks among business/public representatives
- ✓ Learn technology needs from Africa and technology seeds from Japan
- ✓ Facilitate business promotion efforts by embassies based in Tokyo

UNIDO ITPO Tokyo: (5) Activities Overseas

- Africa Advisory Programme: since 2013, experienced African investment promotion advisors have been posted to support Japanese companies interested in doing their businesses in Africa. The advisors are based at UNIDO field offices residing in Algeria, Ethiopia and Mozambique.

Advantages for Japanese investors

- ✓ Provide the latest investment info and business consultations with Japanese investors
- ✓ Facilitate business matching between Japanese investors and local enterprises
- ✓ Arrange meetings and site visits during the visit of Japanese investors

UNIDO ITPO Tokyo: African Advisors

- UNIDO ITPO Tokyo Advisors cover 6 countries: Algeria, Burundi, Ethiopia, Mozambique, Uganda and Rwanda
- Tailor-made assistance has been provided to more than 120 Japanese companies, which succeeded in concluding business agreements and establishing liaison offices.
- UNIDO ITPO Tokyo will assign one new advisor in West Africa in 2018.
